Lean Canvas: FolioCheck

Resume & project portfolio parser for students | IBM SkillsBuild Masterclass 5

1. PROBLEM

- Resumes, project reports and lab reports are often incomplete: missing objectives, methodology, analysis, references or measurable achievements.
- Faculty feedback is slow, generic and inconsistent.
- Students find out about gaps only after losing marks or interview shortlists.

Existing alternatives: grammar checkers, generic resume scorers, manual faculty review, peer review.

4. SOLUTION

- Upload a PDF or DOCX; sections are detected automatically.
- Compared with a checklist or teacher rubric; missing items are flagged.
- Constructive structure tips and a readiness score.

8. KEY METRICS

- Documents scanned per week
- Score improvement, first to final upload
- Free-to-paid conversion
- Partner colleges onboarded

3. UNIQUE VALUE PROPOSITION

- Know what's missing in your resume or report before your teacher or recruiter does: instant, rubric-based feedback on structure and completeness, in a supportive tone.

High-level concept: a spell-check for the structure of student work.

9. UNFAIR ADVANTAGE

- Growing library of college rubrics and checklists.
- Anonymised gap data that improves suggestions over time.
- Faculty and placement-cell partnerships.

5. CHANNELS

- College training and placement cells
- Campus ambassadors and student clubs
- LinkedIn, Instagram and YouTube creators
- Faculty referrals and LMS plug-ins

2. CUSTOMER SEGMENTS

- Undergraduate students in India preparing project reports, lab records and placement resumes.
- Early adopters: 2nd and 3rd year engineering students preparing for internships.
- Secondary: faculty, lab instructors and placement officers.

7. COST STRUCTURE

- Cloud hosting and AI/NLP API usage
- Development and maintenance
- Rubric and content review
- Marketing and campus outreach
- Data security and support

6. REVENUE STREAMS

- Freemium: limited free scans per month
- Low-cost premium student plan
- College and institution licences with rubric management and faculty dashboard
